STRUCTURE and AIMS OF THE COURSE

The ‘Accademia del Belcanto “Rodolfo Celletti”’ in Martina Franca is promoted and organised by the ‘Fondazione Paolo Grassi’, in collaboration with the Festival della Valle d’Itria. It was set up in 2010 to provide young lyrical singers with a highly specialised training on the various aspects of vocal technique and performance of Italian Belcanto repertoire (from Monteverdi to proto-Romanticism), comprising of analysis and practice of the various styles of Western music theatre, including expressions of modernity.

The course also includes various practical workshops, applied to specific Belcanto techniques and aesthetics: from seventeenth-century “recitar cantando” to expressions of the Apulian and Neapolitan school; from coloratura techniques to variations in early nineteenth-century Italian Belcanto tradition.

During the 2017 edition of the Festival della Valle d’Itria, students will have the opportunity of gaining specific practical experience, thus enriching their training. They will be guided by great supervisors, prominent interpreters and concert-masters.

The Academy’s programme also includes a module specialising in in-depth analysis of Baroque Belcanto, with prestigious master-classes and valuable one-to-one lessons for young performers with a particular interest in, and inclination towards, this kind of repertoire. This specific, personalised course is enriched with opportunities for practical work experiences during the Festival.

The students who have not passed the selection can still attend training activities as listeners, and they may take the place of selected students in case any should drop out.

Upon admission to the course, non-EU candidates must comply with the requisites of the current legislation, as failing to do so may ultimately result in exclusion from the course.

Priority will be given to candidates possessing:

- a Conservatoire or Musical Institution diploma, or level I or II academic diploma issued by an official music Institution;
- professional experience in the field of opera theatre, through participation in artistically significant operas and concerts, which will be evaluated by the judging panel. The judges' selection and decision is final.

The selection of the candidates will be based on the presented titles and after an AUDITION, which will be held in one of the following dates/places:

- in Milan in collaboration with the Associazione VoceAllOpera (see details below) in Cascina Torrette di Trenno [Via Giuseppe Gabetti 15, 20147 Milan] on the 20th, 21th and 22nd November 2016 (the times will be made available on the website www.vocealopera.com);
- in Martina Franca at the Fondazione Paolo Grassi (the headquarters of the Accademia) on the 15th February 2017 at 10am;

It is the student's responsibility to make sure the enrolment to the audition reached the organising administration offices of the Academy at least three days before the selected date.

The Director has the right to admit to the courses singers who, during ex-tempore competitions or auditions, have shown artistic merit and a particular predisposition towards the Belcanto repertoire.

For the audition, candidates should prepare three operatic arias inclusive of recitative and cabaletta (where applicable) in the original key; one aria must come from early nineteenth-century Italian operatic repertoire. It is advisable, but not compulsory, to also prepare an aria from seventeenth-century repertoire.

The examining Committee has the right to choose whether to listen to the whole or only part of the programme indicated in the application. Medium-difficulty first-sight music reading may also be requested.

For the auditions we will be happy to provide a collaborating maestro for piano accompaniment. It is the candidate's right to be accompanied on the piano by his/her accompanying maestro, whose expenses are, however, to be paid entirely by the candidate.

The candidate must send a copy of the scores for each piece of his/her programme to the 'Fondazione Paolo Grassi' (via e-mail at accademia@fondazionepaolograssi.it), before the date of the audition.
